SquadFam Productions was created by TankMann to create and share news within the small town of Dillon County, capture some of the most intricate moments in time to be remembered forever, and most importantly to share joy or hope during trivial times in history to our audience. Being able to communicate, share, and relay past and future events or show community support within Dillon County and surrounding area has been the beat of this

I am a director, photographer, and filmmaker currently living in South Carolina. My interests range from photography to movies. I am also interested in travel, arts, and music. I am a retired MSG of the US ARMY, and father of six. After serving my country for what seemed like a lifetime I decided to pursue my first love Video/Cinematography. I have spent the past 8 years perfecting my profession. In this time I have attended two of the most pristine film and journalistic schools in the world. LA Film School, and Full Sail University! I have enjoyed my journey to mastering my craft. I have also had the opportunity to be a part of films like "Christmas In Carolina" and "A Decade of Dance- The Dance Journey." If you are looking for quality work mix with Passion and love then you have found it here at Squad FAM Productions! This site was created with the sole purpose to inform and inspire the community of Dillon County and surrounding areas. During this trivial journey of COVID-19, keeping hope and faith alive in our community is the best thing we can do as a whole. Stay safe and wear a mask. Please feel free to follow me or see more information on what we do here at Squad FAM Productions by clicking one of the links below.
